

Reception News

This week we have been continuing our learning about the police service through the story of 'Cops and Robbers' and also through the saga of the missing paint in school this week! We made wanted posters to help solve the mystery and we worked together to collect clues and look at evidence. Luckily we solved the mystery and the missing paint was returned.

In maths we have been continuing our work on doubling using different equipment and methods. We are getting very confident at recognising and representing doubles in different formats.

Next week we will be looking at the role of the fire service in our community.

Nursery news

This week in the Nursery the children have been learning and talking about all of the different birds that like the cold weather. There are lots outside in the garden and in the park and we have been using our special view finders to spot and identify all the different types. The weather has been sunnier too and all the children have been able to visit our other garden and use all of the other toys, including the toy cars and tricycles!

The children have made bird feeders to hang outside, 'Robin' pictures using brown paint and red feathers, practised their name writing using paint and a feather as a mark making tool and practised their number knowledge using our numbered bird games.

Have a lovely weekend!
